Fair Haven Residents Kevin Griffin and Joe Duva Announce November Run for Council

Fair Haven, NJ – Fair Haven residents Kevin Griffin and Joseph “Joe” Duva have announced their joint candidacy for Fair Haven Borough Council in the November election. Together, they bring an impressive array of experience, insight and community involvement to the ticket, and look forward to working tirelessly for Fair Haven’s continued success.

Kevin Griffin is a senior executive who leads a national sales organization for a top global communications company, overseeing a high-revenue operation with full profit-and-loss responsibility. Known for his collaborative, results-driven leadership, Kevin has built a career on delivering success. He and his wife Lynn live have lived on Spruce Drive since 2011 and have three children, all of whom attended Sickles School. With a son at Knollwood School and two daughters attending Rumson-Fair Haven Regional High School, Kevin is a well-known member of the community. A dedicated volunteer and avid golfer, Kevin has been actively involved in youth sports, launching the very successful travel softball league and coaching every sport imaginable. Kevin also supports organizations such as the American Heart Association, First Choice Women’s Resource Center and the American Cancer Society.

Joe Duva, a Cornell University graduate, is an active volunteer firefighter in Fair Haven and serves as Head of Corporate Strategy for a global Real Estate Investment Trust. With a robust career that includes leadership roles at Citibank, Mercer, IBM, and Instacart, Joe has expertise in strategy, innovation, product development, and operations. Originally from Connecticut, Joe and his wife Melissa lived in a nearby beach community for several years before settling into a charming 75-year-old home on Grange Avenue. When he is not working or volunteering at the firehouse, Joe is busy restoring their home and taking their young daughter for walks through Fair Haven’s beautiful parks and trails. Through his year-round firefighting service and related volunteerism at the annual Fireman’s Fair, Joe has met a great number of residents and has gained a deep understanding of the community’s values.

As candidates for Fair Haven Borough Council, Kevin and Joe are committed to upholding the town’s legacy of safety, preservation, efficiency, transparency, and fiscal responsibility. They look forward to working hard for the community, focused on Fair Haven.
